

History Mystery Revealed

For over 30 years a civil war raged across England.

With Richard the III being the leader of the white rose family - or York family - and Henry's family being the red rose family (Lancaster family).

they were enemies.

Both sides met in the fields of Bosworth on the 22nd August, to have a battle as to which family would rule. Betraying the York family, Henry was aided by Lord Stanley because he switched sides.

Attempting to take on Henry himself, Richard came to no avail and died. Then, the dead man's crown was placed on Henry along with cheers of, "All hail the new King!"

Not long after, Henry united the two sides by marrying Elizabeth of York, creating the Tudor Rose.
