

Sunday 2nd September 1666

Dear Diary,

While every one was asleep the fire started and it was strong and started at 1am in the morning. I feel emotional, exhausted, cold and confused. When I heard the shocking news, I hoped every body was safe. But I was very scared and emotional when I heard that the fire started on Pudding Lane.

I will write to you ~~again~~ soon. I hope every body is safe.

Thursday 6th September 1666

Dear Diary,

I feel so happy and amazed because the fire has gone. They needed to pull down the house to put out the fire. I was so shocked when I saw the fire. But now I can eat my cheese and drink wine with my lovely wife. I can dance with her too and have so much fun, I might open a bakery but it will not burn like this one.

Thank you. I am excited to write to you again soon!
