

once upon a time there was three friends who were called Bramble Cat and Heron. Early one morning they all went to seek their fortune.
First cat crept along by the wall but all he found was an old fish bone. Next Bramble crawled through the grass but all he found was a rusty old pot. Finally Heron flew over a field where he spied pile of gold. First as cats Bramble and Heron divided the gold into not one not two but three bags. Then they decided to hide their gold. First as cat crept through the garden he put down and waited still as stone, staring staring and the mouse still the cat gold.
Then the thief still the Bramble shiny clean gold then Heron hold the gold on his beak and he saw two like him. It look like his brother then he said hello then he dropped his gold like a rain. Cat waited for his gold then then Bramble is search mouse's gold then he waited for the mouse. After the Bramble it might trip your when your went past and waited for the thief will thined over. Then Heron wife is searching he searching for his gold. That is why to this very day cat is still sat waiting at mouse's hole.
