

Many moons ago in Ancient Greece there were two brothers. Their names were Epimetheus and Prometheus. Gods controlled the land they lived in and Zeus was the King of the Gods.

- One day the two nasty brothers decided to mess with Zeus. Zeus was frustrated and decided to punish them. Zeus commanded the Gods to create a lovely smart Lady. They named her Pandora.

Pandora was feeling amazing being married to Prometheus but when she got a gift from Zeus she was miserable.

- She was staring at the box given to her by Zeus. Why can't I open it?
She shouted, feeling curious. I didn't know what to do. She closed her eyes and imagined that inside the mysterious box was money and important objects. The mystery of the gift box remained unknown.

- One morning Pandora opened the mysterious box and she jumped back as a shiny dust butterfly of hope of the box. The butterfly sprinkled light over the darkness around her.