

Dear Eileen,
Words can not describe the depth of the love I have felt for you during our time apart. Pains spreading around to my heart though to my veins. With every sunrise my pain depends to my soul. There is only so help me. Someone has been in my mind for the past couple of days. My love you are the only person I trust with my heart what is engrained. Please read on with a loving heart and an open mind, this is the love that we share all the time. You will always be in my heart and soul, can you help me?

It's been three long, emotional nights since I wrote my first paragraph to you, I can only apologise for your anxiety that I might have caused. Can you understand why I have been breaking my haunted mind? Also I'm stuttering for the words to write for this paragraph. So I must be riddled and rattled with guilt. I must keep my pen on the paper.

In an attempt to preserve my own life, I was hiding behind a broken tree to keep cover. At this point, all I wanted was to survive and get home to you.

However, I heard leaves crunch. Footsteps were approaching what I thought was my safe space. Then I was discovered. Noticing that he was a teenager,
I let out a blood scream "Surrender".
He pointed his gun at me...
It was instant death for him.

Exhaustion took control of my mind the first night, commanding me to sleep. Numb to my pain I didn't realise how valuable my sleep would be now if I am lucky to get enough sleep. Can I process my actions.

If only there was another way.

If only I could talk to me one last time.

Unable to give his forgiveness I will beg for yours. Can you ever forgive me?

How can I learn from what I have done.

Punishing myself ever minute of every day.

I'm lost to guilt that consumes me.

Please don't let me loose you too.

Forever your Joseph.
