

The yellow bear fell in the bin. The bad dog pushed him in. The tall man picked up the sack. Then the old man drove the shiny truck and the soft bear fell onto the smelly rubbish. Next the small boy took the red bus to the dump. The sad boy made a big fuss. The helpful man searched for the bear. Sadly the poor bear was feeling cold and cross. Carefully the clever dog sniffed around the dump. Happily he found the lost bear. The old man drove the boy and the dirty bear home. The bear had a bubble bath. Finally the boy promised his friend he would not tell.
