

NASA Headquarters
300 E St SW
Washington
DC 20546
United States

Dear Neil,

I am so grateful for your informative letter expressing deep concern about the unknown invasion that took place this Saturday. As expected, the children were in true disbelief as they noticed the UFO (Unidentified flying object) crash. In this letter, I will outline every key evidence on this page and never miss one out to help you solve this mission.

Unexpectedly, there was green stretchy plasma that covered the entirety of the bench. The children linked this to a form of communication which the aliens learn on Earth.

Students were particularly puzzled by the UFO hovering above the quad. In addition to this, there was a mountain of white, outlandish powder that was randomly scattered by the quad. This caused the children to speculate that the white powder was another form of communication. We hope that this heap of information will help you solve this invasion for once and for all. While some of these items were scattered in the playground, the majority of them were in class 3KL.

These objects were included: Extraterrestrial plasma, aluminum foil, protective glasses and mysterious glasses. Over the next few days students and senior members of staff will monitor the scene closely and report further information

Speak soon

Brandon (Chief detective at Quarry Hill Academy)