

This colossal Iron being stands one hundred feet tall. When his giant feet walk, they cause earthquakes that shake the world. His shiny metallic body glistens in the sunlight. The Iron man hands and fingers are as strong as crane claws and he is able to pick up anything using his mighty power.

Inside his rust bucket head are eyes like headlights that change colour to show his emotions red for angry and blue for happy. The Iron man is misunderstood he is actually gentle and compassionate and not the terrifying monster he appears to be.
