

One sunny day, Henda was walking to her friend Areyo village. She wanted to surprise her with some fruit. In her basket, she had seven delicious fruits. There was a juicy, slippery mango and a spiky, yellow pineapple. She also had a small, sour passion fruit and a soft, sweet banana. Henda also had a creamy, green avocado and a yummy, round orange in her heavy basket. Finally, there was a pink, tropical guava. Henda was so excited to give Areyo the fruits.