

Dear diary,

Today is a disgusting day I will never forget.

Early this morning I joined the crowd next to the execution site. We were all waiting for the execution of Anne Boleyn. As the Queen walk down to the execution site, she seemed calm and not really gussed about getting executed at all. She prayed to God and then asked the crowd to pray for her.

Many people turned away while many people was glued to it (I was one of them glued to it). I It was gruesome to watch it, the gruesomest ever. Anne's life was now over, as lots of people were sad that she was no longer alive.
